ABOUT US

No house or business should be without reliable fire safety equipment. From the smallest family home to large scale office blocks and shopping centres, you can never underestimate the impact that dedicated fire protection equipment can have.

Here at AAI Security, we supply, install and maintain a range of fire safety equipment including fire alarms, smoke detectors and a full complement of fire extinguishers.

Since 1988 we have carried out safe and professional installation of fire safety equipment, catering to commercial and domestic clients, in London and the Home Counties. We never use sub-contractors, so you can rest assured that all the services we provide, including advice and suggestions for the most suitable fire safety systems for your premises, all come from the same trusted source.

We aim to keep your property safe. With BAFE, FSA and NSI accreditations, we are fully capable of installing and servicing effective fire safety systems to meet all legal regulations.

▫ Fire Alarm Systems

Every commercial premises requires some form of fire detection equipment. Fire alarm systems work to detect and then alert occupants the moment a fire is identified. This allows for safe and efficient evacuation of the property and a swift response from emergency services to limit potential damage.

▫ Fire Alarm Installation & Maintenance

Fire alarm systems are designed bespoke to your premises. The specialist team at AAI Security survey your site to create the most appropriate alarm system for you, before carrying out meticulous installation to NSI Fire Gold Standard. Once your system is in place and working correctly, we are on hand to provide dedicated aftercare and maintenance services to keep your alarm operating perfectly for years to come. Our maintenance service includes fixing major and minor damage, emergency response for faulty or broken alarms systems, and regular servicing of existing systems.

▫ Smoke Detectors

Forming a critical part of your fire detection system, smoke detectors are effective when installed in any domestic, commercial or industrial environment. Ionisation, optical and combined sensors are available, and each can be installed to fit seamlessly with existing fire alarm systems. AAI Security provide expert installation, maintenance and servicing of smoke detectors to ensure long-lasting and reliable operation for complete peace of mind.

Fire Alarms & Smoke Alarms

Should a fire ever occur in your building, your fire alarm system will be the first line of defence. Awareness is a key part of a fire safety plan, so being able to respond immediately to a blaze is invaluable. AAI Security supply a range of fire detection equipment which work reliably to alert your entire property should a fire be detected.

Fire Extinguishers

AAI Security supply, install and maintain a full range of fire extinguishers to protect your property. All our fire extinguishers come with BAFA approval, and we perform rigorous maintenance and servicing to ensure your fire extinguishers are operating at peak efficiency at all times.

Our site survey and fire audit services advise on the most suitable arrangement of fire extinguishers for your property, and our experienced team will install your fire extinguishers to strict industry regulations.
